MESSAGE

21st century is essentially a century of knowledge. The lever of progress in this century is knowledge and not machine. From ancient India, we are blessed with legacy of having laid the foundations of mathematics, astronomy and metaphysics. Today again we are in the age of knowledge. And once again our professionals have started proving to the world that we will be able to lead the world.

Education is indeed the foundation for development and empowerment. To strengthen a society, we must foster the youth with power of knowledge. They must be educated as the global citizen and the contributor in forming India as a 'knowledge hub'. As Science, Technology and Research are the largest factors in bringing out the development across the globe, we thought of taking initiative in educating the youth in this direction.

It gives me pleasure to know that the Mahatma Gandhi University is launching employable programmes in various disciplines.

I convey my best wishes to the Mahatma Gandhi University for creating new milestones in the field of education.
